When I'm alone and thinkin' of death
Thinkin' about the world and when it will end
Thinkin' of what is accepted and accepted as true
They're all just fuckin' lies

Aware, beware the war, the war is to come
The beast in man has been caged far too long
No longer are we the wild wolves of old
The cross has taken our talons and taken our soul

The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war

This song is a stab to the hearts
Of those who feel guilty for our past
Fuck all this remorse and fuckin' regret
They are a curse and a disease of Christianity that leads to our death

Hail, those who would give us hope
Hail, those who have seen beyond the dawn
Hail, to those who have fought and won our wars
Hail, to those who have kept the fire burning

The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war

The spirit of the war dead call out our name
They call us to remember and rekindle the flames
The spirit of the war dead never died
They live on in our hearts through spirit and pride

The spirit of the war dead are your ancestors tool
There is no shame in who and what we are Look within and find out who you are

The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war

Seems the winds of change are upon us again
The tides have risen, the seas are black
It seems we're here to bear witness to the world on its knees at its death
But have no fear for the world ends for us all in the end
War and death inevitable

Liars, cheats, cunts and fuckin' whores
I want you all against the fuckin' wall
You are traitors to everything that was ever yours
There's nothing left for this world but fuckin' war

The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
The eternal glory of war
