Eternal darkness a ripper approaches
He returns from his mission
He has only one target
Death and destruction
You never see him
You never hear him
You don't know his name
You don't know where he comes from
If you encounter him, run for your life

Death line his way Sword and axe are his weapons his fame hurries on ahead he leaves anxiety and terror His master expects him he doesn't tolerate failures his power is vast he's a lot of names call him reverential the evil one
