Eyes penetrating my soul of steel
Can you ever forgive me, for this is how I feel
When I cry, when you scream, I touch your soul
Can you ever forgive me?

Nevermore shall I cry your name in pain
Nevermore shall I feed you black roses, till you die

Victims of a sadistic faith
I prophasize their death, I await
Brutally tortured, impaled by their god
Bleeding for their faith
The pain will never cease to stop

I saw my reflection through a bloodstained mirror
And as the grimness of daylight appears.
Forevermore shall I rule your life in vain,
Forevermore, for I am the outcast that everyone fears

Eyes penetrating my soul of steel
Can you ever forgive me, for this is how I feel.
When I cry, when you scream I touch your soul
Can you ever forgive me?

Nevermore shall I cry your name in pain
Nevermore shall I feed you black roses,
Till you die.

Brutally tortured, impaled by their god
Bleeding for their faith
The pain will never cease to stop
