"Slaying The Serpent"

Night, Night arouses day
Innocents of blood Wrath of my enemy regardless of the weak Haunting my spirit for the answers that I seek As I walk through the valley of darkness my blackened heart stands face to face with my inner demon.
And for all this I shall walk burning through the flaming gates of hell
And they sang a new song saying thou art worthy to take the book and to open the seals there of for thou art slain and has redeemed us by every power kindred and nation
