Don't promise me nothing if
You can't stick to your word
Don't blame me for something that you
Claim that you have heard
Don't lead me along while you
Run around in the street

It's a pity and a shame
Baby, you'll never change

Would a woman want a man if he
Never wants to make romance
What do I need with a man if I
Only get to see him by chance
These long lonely nights are
About to drive me insane

It's a pity and shame
Baby, you'll never change

You were so nice
I remember when it started
I never thought that
You would ever change
Is it my fault that I'm
Sad and broken-hearted?
I wish you'd leave
Before I go insane

You never take me in your arms
You never have nothing that's to say
You walk around lookin' mean and evil
Each and every day
You even get fightin' mad
Whenever I call your name

It's a pity and a shame
Baby, you'll never change
