I think everyone of us is waiting for something super Prince or princess or whatever it is that could make this perfect
But life ain't easy, life ain't perfect and it's not even fair But still I love the life that's given to me and I want to live it wisely

Well, we've been given the cards we can't change so we have to play with them I would like to have some other colors and other numbers too Y'know I've lost some important ones and I know that's sad but true
And I hope when it's my time to go I still have the best card to choose

I am not here to stay forever
I gotta go and it won't take long
Just a bang and no me no more
But I have this moment and you have it too...

Well, I have told you about life in general and now it's time for afterlife
I believe and I think it's true that there is heaven and hell to choose Eternal life or eternally died, I know it's quite black and white
But who am I to re-write the Bible since I know it's the word of God

I am not here to stay forever
I gotta go and it won't take long
Just a bang and no me no more
But I have this moment and you have it too, so what we gonna do?
