Once in a while you tell me your love is true
Now and again you hold me like you used to
Are you looking for another girl
Who needs the same as you
Are you looking for another world
With not so much to lose

If I live and breathe for you
Hold back the seas for you
Oh, say you will, say you will
Say you will be mine

I know somebody once tore your world apart
Slowly I hope I'm mending your broken heart
If I hold you long enough
Will you speak the truth
Am I kissing you deep enough
To prove this love to you

If I take a stand for you
Hold out my hand for you
Oh, say you will, say you will
Say you will be mine

If I live and breathe for you
I'll hold back the seas for you
If I take a stand for you
Say you will, say you will
Say you will be mine
