"First Song For B"

Watch the stream run by you Watch the Indian chief, wrapped in blue corn leaves drift by you Watch it take root in the sun's pond, and rise at the fire
Oh, no more being matchwood Only rising higher

I wanna see you be the one whose first light Harbors in the new day and see you settle into yourself and never be afraid

Now I take everything as a good sign, because I'm in love
I take everything as a sign, from God

And now I give myself to you alone
No more nights hang above me Oh, B...

Please destroy me, please destroy me, please destroy me, please destroy me yeah
