I can't wake up from the dream of a girl
Who stopped loving me
Carelessly she took to the sky
And left me behind
Into the night
She flew from my side
Her voice faded from my head
I can't believe what's happening to me
My body lives on but my soul is dead

Somewhere between the sun and the night
You changed your mind
Nothings the same and nothing has changed
I still wait like a fool

Steady she goes full speed ahead
A cloud of black smoke chokes me in my bed
Too weak to let go
Too strong to give in
All that I've wanted is lost once again
I torture myself every minute that goes by
Your throwing the bate and my heart slowly dies
Boiling and red you finish me off
You lie through your mouth and I can see it in your eyes

Somewhere between the sun and the night
You changed your mind
Nothings the same and nothing has changed
I still wait like a fool
