His world is in flames only shadows play friendship

How does it feel to be alone in the inferno

The eyes of...

Falling and drifting the course remains unclear

He's setting sail to better places

... a dead man

Pictures are about to burn

Love letters lost their value

This day he died alone in his fear

Clear traces on both of his wrists

Where the blade defeated the flash

And took him into oblivion

This day he died

His end in flames
