My baby left me down at the liquor store,
I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
He said I love you baby, but I just can't drink no more.
And I said hubby-daddy, what are you buggin' for?
Yeah well I saw you with that blonde on the danceroom
floor,
Well I ain't said nothin' now I want one more.

I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
He said I love you baby, but I just can't drink no more.

He said oh why you, why you, why you always do me like that?
You won't even talk to me while you're drinking your coke and jack.
But you'll talk to all the other guys and that's a fact.
And I said hey baby, I love you as much as I can,
But there are certain things I just can't find in a man.
Cause when I'm through with you by the end of the night,
I can always stand.

I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
He said I love you baby, but I just can't drink no more.

Hey bartender, give me a sweet and get me dry,
Give me a hard time and I'll spit in your eye.
Cause I just wanna drink and that's it,
And ain't takin' no one's shit,
So get your hand off my ass, think I'm a bitch?
Man, you ain't seen nothing yet.

I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
I said my baby left me down at the liquor store,
He said I love you baby, but I just can't drink no more.
