She tries on dresses half her size
She whines, "These labels all tell lies"
She wiggles 'til you give her love
Then says, "I'm jumping off your bus"

Love is mind games
Love is mind games

She complains, you listen nice
Then gets P. O.'d by your advice
She waits until it's time for bed
To question what's inside your head

If you think
Black is black
And white is white
Open up your eyes
And get it right

Love is mind games
Love is mind games
Love is mind games
Love is mind games

If you think the chemistry that makes you stupid
Is the same as the stuff that makes you smart
All I can say to you, my friend
Is that you're off to a banging start

Playing mind games
Playing mind games

I try and I try hard to believe
A guy and girl can live in peace
I get laughs when I explain
We could escape the house of pain

If you think the sky is blue
Or the grass is green
Open up your eyes
See what I mean

Love is mind games
Love is mind games
Love is mind games
Love is mind games
