I'm hiding ...
I'm hiding ...

I'm hiding who I really am
I want to tell the truth, but I just can't
We built our bond on honesty
But still I've hidden

This part of me

He understands me like nobody else
With him I can truly be myself
Believe me, I never want to lie
But I lied to him
And I don't know why

But I wish I could go back
To that one moment in time

When I had the chance
The chance to do the right thing
The right thing

What am I so afraid of?

I felt a piece of me die
And it's the part of me that keeps me alive
God give me the strength to tell the truth tonight
I want to set things right

So I'm not ...

Hiding
Don't want to be hiding
Don't want to be
Don't want to be
Hiding, hiding, hiding
