

Devon Werkheiser

"You Wear It Well"

Visit "You Wear It Well" on MotoLyrics.com

No, I don't believe in politicians
No, I do not have a secret mission
No, I never did have much ambition
But I can't live without you
No, we don't have time for celebration
Never had a heavy conversation
You have never been the inspiration
But I can't live without you

You walk out the door
You walk back in
You done what you done
You been where you been
Over and over and over again

Your hands, your lips or your alibis
Good tears tattooed under your eyes
You're up, you're down, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is you wear it well
You change your name
You told me to think
You change so much
You can't be seen
You're in, you're out, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is you wear it well
You wear it well

Don't know why you wanna live forever
Ain't nobody gonna make it better
We ain't never gonna be together
But I can't live without you

You walk out the door
You walk back in
You done what you done
You been where you been
Over and over and over again

Your hands, your lips or your alibis
Good tears tattooed under your eyes
You're up, you're down, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is, you wear it well

You change your name
You told me to think
You change so much
You can't be seen
You're in, you're out, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is you wear it well

Everybody's lying to themselves
Everyday you look like someone else
With you more is more and less is less
I don't wanna be your life
I don't wanna do what's right
I just wanna see what happens next
With or without you

Your hands, your lips or your alibis
Good tears tattooed under your eyes
You're up, you're down, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is you wear it well
You change your name
You told me to think
You change so much
You can't be seen
You're in, you're out, it's hard to tell
Whatever it is you wear it well
You wear it well

Your trips, your sex, your scars, your skin
Your much too tough, your much too thin
Your kicks, your tricks, your point of view
It all looks good on you

Visit Devon Werkheiser page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.