

Devotchka

"All The Sand In All the Sea"

Visit "All The Sand In All the Sea" on MotoLyrics.com

Oh you precious souls and the balance of the (bargin basement?) us to common criminals. So you're having visions at this bright conditions, overseas transmissions to anyone who listens.

You're ready for the drums to kick in, your want to free your life and limbs. I am going to count to three then you want to leave here with me.

Oh we wasted all our precious time chasing dollars, chasing dimes, German English, Japenese, all the sand in all the seas. It's all in place, it's all laid out, and as we speak it's going down. And don't forget me, look back fully here's the part that always gets me.

You float across the room, you're lips are in full bloom. Petals fall from your mouth. Have you found me out? You've been here before along the civil war. I'll wait religiously, don't forget that you came here with me.

Oh we wasted all our precious time chasing dollars, chasing dimes, German English, Japenese, all the sand in all the seas. It's all in place, it's all laid out, and as we speak it's going down. And don't forget me, look back fully here's the part that always gets me.

Visit Devotchka page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.