When they 1st met, he swept her off her feet with a boyish smile, acting so sweet They talked alot-got along really well little did she know-she was entering his hell Her love grew stronger with every day She'd always wish he'd never change in any way as time passed on he started to change The innocence left him-he was becoming so strange

[Chorus:]

Her love is innocence
he took her by surprise
her love is innocence
in her weakness he prides
her love is innocence
love will always be blind
her love is innocence
trying to break from his bind

[Extra Verse]

things were going great he was liked by her friends he made her happy she never wanted it to end the days went by and the closer they got in her open heart she gave him a special spot perfect in others eyes if they'd only known more like what went on behind his closed doors he hid it well by trying to act so cute scared for herself she had to remain mute with his short temper he was always ready to snap with no conscience he'd set up his trap she always kept quiet-scared of what he might do he made her sick, left her black and blue

[Chorus]

she tried to leave but she was scared of his threats he was relentless and he never had any regrets he'd push her around and then laugh in her face held her at knifepoint to show her his place wheres that sweet boy she had met years before? she didn't understand as he knocked her to the floor she picked herself up and left him behind all he has left is his warped and twisted mind

[Chorus]
