Oh it's hard to resist on a night like this impossible to withstand when you're holding my heart in your hand lay down where ever you please under the moon cloud masterpeice may our conscience be devoured by the sweetness of the hour meet me down the primrose path give me life and take some back oh how I love that song will you play it again pour your blue tides on several soul girlfriends our love is sweeter than
The Oblivion

Now I know you got your mind set on somebody else

I was going to let you down
I was kidding myself Oh how I paid for past mistakes how blessed is the flesh that breaks now are you wide awake just one more time for old times sake
will you sing it again
our love is bigger than
The Oblivion
