you preach with such conviction but your life mirrors contradiction daddy foots the bills
as you live a life of priveleged frills buying hair dye with mommy's visa card yet you bitch that life is so hard with a punker-than-thou attitude you hide behind a facade to elude

You're a simple book to read with your transparent creed Your facade recedes
to your front-we do heed.

sent to an ivy league school only to come out a corporate fool one day sporting daddy's benz next day your politi-punk stance condescends your opinions are ineffectual you're a phoney pseudo-intellectual out to prove yourself with verbal affrays but your prescence here is just a phase

Your facade recedes
to your front-we do heed.

oh my god i've got daddy's benz today really i have mommy's plastic we can go shopping, oh my god, total the mall we're there, we're so there shop for punk cd, come on alright, lets go

Your facade recedes
to your front-we do heed.

you make attempts to theorize with motives contrived to criticize you'll find ways to falsly justify your guise to explain to yourself your lies you'll be gone in two years-an accurate prediction and elsewhere you'll live out a life of fiction family money affords your fleeting radical views but nothing can buy you true virtues

Your facade recedes

Your facade recedes
