(spoken)

Dear god,

I know that she's out there...the one I'm suppose to share my whole life with.

And in time...you'll show her to me.

Will you take care of her, comfort her, and protect her...until that day we Meet.

And let her know...my heart...is beating with hers.

In a dream I hold you close

Embracing you with my hands

You gazed at me with eyes full of love

And made me understand

That I was meant to share it with you

My heart my mind my soul

Then I open my eyes

And all I see reality shows I'm alone

But I know someday that you'll be by my side

Cause I know god's just waiting till the time is right

God will you keep her safe from the thunderstorm

When the day's cold will you keep her warm

When the darkness falls will you please shine her the
way

God will you let her know that I love her so

When theres no one there that she's not alone

Just close her eyes and let her know

My heart is beating with hers

So I prayed until that day (prayed until that day)

When our hearts will beat as one (when our hearts hearts will beat as one)

I will wait so patiently (patiently)

For that day to come (for that day to come)

I know someday that you'll be by my side

Cause I know god's just waiting till the time is right

God will you keep her safe from the thunderstorm
When the day's cold will you keep her warm
When the darkness falls will you please shine her the way (shine he the way)
God will you let her know that I love her so
When theres no one there that she's' not alone
Just close her eyes and let her know
My heart is beating with hers

Is beating with hers (ooo)
My heart is beating with hers (oooo)
It's beating with hers

God will you keep her safe from the thunderstorm
When the day's cold will you keep her warm
When the darkness falls will you please shine her the
way
God will you let her know that I love her so
When theres no one there that she's not alone
Just close her eyes and let her know
My heart is beating with hers

Oh~~~ it's beating with hers
(it's beating with yours)
