Let's drown the confusion of blind sanity, these are the gates to the absurd Upside down, then deeply inside out, stabbing away the origin of woe
No longer encaged by reality, the un-ending dream of anti-fantasy Touching the spirit of decline, a perpetual enemy, blindly embracing shadows Thoughtful in a world of no sense, with a truth full of lies Alive in a shattered insanity, day after day and life after life, collapsing destiny Daydreams raped in their pride, divine misery, this is the shattered insanity Shattered insanity, down on your knees, wounded inhumane doctrines Unbound from defeat, blindly embracing shadows, the distance from morbidity
Is the shelter of time, alive in a shattered insanity Alive in a shattered insanity, day after day and life after life, the final certainty Dead end of utter delight, the perennial quest, for an ever shattered insanity Shattered insanity down on your knees...SLOW! The sanity of a world insane
A masquerade, no more bound, no longer encaged, no more impaled
In a destiny soon burnt to ash
