No tirne and nothing around I was the one who survived and all I could see was only the black of the sky Memories came back while tears fell down hate grew up into my heart but I was alone with no enemy to fight Then I fall asleep and in my dreams I saw the meaning of my life ... of the life

Damnation or salvation
from everlasting hellfire?
Around me a bad wind of sorrow is rising but I'm not afraid
There is not more future and there was no past the present I'm living might be the last

Be free young man and leave the money Be free young man and save your days

Raise your mind as far as 99th floor and elevate yourself over human thought Tonight give me one more reason to sleep with better dreams
Tonight give me one more reason to stay with me Shadows of the sky walk into my nightmares falling down by a light above crying for their vengeance a scream from the oceans went through me to the bones but now I feel so strong 'cause I know what you have done

Damnation or salvation
from everlasting hellfire?

the present I'm living might be the last

... might be the last
