It wasn't me who said to you I want it
It wasn't you who taught me how to need
Confidence...
Confidence...
It wasn't right that you and he had fought me
It was not fair, it was a dead end street

I wonder if you could say that it was cloud nine
I wonder if I could tell you that you should be mine

Confidence, you knew that I needed it
Confidence...
Confidence, I need it more than love
Confidence...

I'm not always happy
no not all the time.
I found out the hard way,,,,,
that you won't be mine.

Confidence, you knew that I needed it
Confidence...
Confidence, I need it more than love
Confidence...

Until today I haven't laughed a lot
There was a pain inside of me
I was afraid of doing all the wrong things
But now I know I'm happy with all I've got

It wasn't me who said to you I want it
It wasn't you who taught me how to need
I've found out that there's no more time for lies
I think i've found the key to paradise... and that is...

Confidence, you knew that I needed it
Confidence...
Confidence, I need it more than love
Confidence...

Confidence, you knew that I needed it
Confidence...

Confidence, I need it more than love (more than love, more than love, i need it more than love...)
