See the falling snow through the night

The moon a silver ray of light
When I'm moving on
Or I get slowed down
It's okay cause it'll all work out

On a holiday somewhere we'd be hiding
On a holiday we learn how to love again

The world ahead is an open door
No going back to where we were before
All the city light
Left behind
I love everything that's new in our eyes

On a holiday somewhere we'd be hiding
On a holiday we learn how to love again
