Still life sun is down
All the light and shadows rest
Don't move know you're safe
Posing in the evening shade
Sit close watch the world
All is falling into place
You are a work of art
Bathing in the colour of spring

To have you by my side
It makes me feel alive

Dark night see the stars align
They spiral out from older light
Your smile seems to last
Even at the early dawn
In my eyes there's a silver storm
Turning all the joy into ice
Still life talk to me
Your brush is one that paints me the best

To have you by my side
It makes me feel alive

It makes me feel alive
You whisper me your life in a sacred harmony
You illuminate the night
And gave love I couldn't find Your selflessness reminds me there's nothing left but peace
And I thank you for that
