Heavy clouds but still no rain
The strength of a man so strong Until the end you kept your head up high
But we all knew the road's still long

But I'll remember the times, your smile would make me happy
Now you're somewhere else my friend And I'll remember the times when we were all just happy
Why did it come to an end?

And now I'm overdone
Cause you, cause you are gone

But I'll remember your face, that smile that made us happy
Now your somewhere else, my friend And I'll remember the place where we were All just happy
Why did it come to an end?
