I prepare for war inside my head
I close my eyes and reach the point
Where everything is meaningless
You strike on my nerves
You have dragged me down
But I'll do the same that you've been doing to me
Before you can say a word
I'm gonna get you, break you and throw you away
Can't you see your oncoming suffering?
Why can't you see the revelation?
The pressure of blood is singing in my ears
When I heard that you've been spreading lies around me
I strike with fear
I cry for war
And I pull the strings that you've been holding before
I will present the shock wave of your life
Can't you see your oncoming suffering?
Why can't you see the revelation?

Today you see the end of the line
'Cos now my hatred is open wide
Then you will know who I am in this game
The Angel of Revenge
You're about to see what is like to be haunted and nailed down
My lust for war will lead us to this bitter state
Where pain is so real and paralyzing
The price we have to pay
But like phoenix I rise
To tear your soul apart now
