Heaven's such a vicious lie
Only Satan's word can I rely
Even when I question fuckin' honor
Turn my back in disgrace

Ask and you shall receive your gift
Devotion to evil must believe this
All the pleasures of this world
Must be hailed from within

Soul is gone for eternal faith
Prayed to God seems such a waste
Rituals have always prevailed
Given lust beyond this world

Sent a demon from his horde
His only aim is just destroy
Everything built that stands
Torn down, all that's left is man

Dedicate the being of forseeing
The future brings death to the deceiving
The unholy truth survives
In the blackened eyes
Weaken to the power, only to die
Offered in the face of God

False belief, false belief
