What's Missing

Written by Jim Marr & Wendy Page

The word is that your so low
And your can't get yourself back online
Ever since your lady had to go
You've lost your sense of time
Staying out 'till the late hours
Looking for something more
I can show you what you wanna find
I hope you remember what your body's for

I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life baby
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life
Is how we could be
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me

Lets get connected
Get connected
Get connected now
Lets get connected
Get connected
Get connected now

All the time that you've been wasting
On your friends playing their games
All those friends you should be tasting
Let me tell you there's gonna be a change
Every night I'm dreaming
Picturing fantasies to use
Every day I'm scheming
I got a sure thing, you just can't lose

I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me
I know what's missing in your life

What's missing in your life baby
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life
Is how we could be
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me

Lets get connected
Get connected
Get connected now
Lets get connected
Get connected
Get connected now

If I can touch you
Then I can move you
All you've got to do
Is open up to me
If can feel you
Then I can groove you
All you have to do
Is blow it all in to the energy

When you get resurrected
The future is going to heavenly
And the post the drives you
Is gonna be the one that flows through me

I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life baby
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life
Is how we could be
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me

I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life baby
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life
Is how we could be
I know what's missing in your life
What's missing in your life is me
