In the moonlight

I see children searching for their souls

In the moonlight, can you hear them howling on the wind

Night after night, I see them passing by

They whisper in my ear, "We know you are there"

I see no eyes, I guess they must be blind

Wish that I could lead them to a better world than mine

Solo : La Rocque

In the moonlight, not a bird is singing lullabies

In the moonlight, I hear a church bell ring its evil song

Night after night, I see them passing by

They whisper in my ear, "We know you are there"

I see no eyes, I guess they must be blind

Wish that I could lead them to a better world than mine

In the moonlight... In the moonlight...

Solos : Simonsen - La Rocque

Night after night, I see them passing by

Wish that I could lead them to a better world than mine

In the moonlight

I see children searching for their souls

In the moonlight

I hear screams of pain from a thousand years ago

Raven spread your wings, lead the spirits to their home

Raven spread your wings, lead the spirits to their home

In the moonlight... In the moonlight
