One never knows, does one
When love will come along?
Then so suddenly
Life turns out to be a song

One never knows, does one
The moment or the place?
Then right before your eyes
Someone occupies your embrace

Someday, look and you'll find
Two hearts were blessed
Someday, fate may be kind
Pray for the future, hope for the best

One never knows, does one?
That's just the way it goes
All at once you hear, hold me, caress me
And then love may come
But when, one never knows

Someday, look and you'll find
Two hearts were blessed
Someday, fate may be kind
Pray for the future, hope for the best

One never knows, does one?
That's just the way it goes
All at once you hear, hold me, caress me
And then love may come
But when, one never knows, does one?
