Don't lose your head, then lose your guy
You can't lose a broken heart
If you ever break up then try to make up
It's tough to make a brand new start

Take a walk, think it over
While strolling 'neath the moon
Don't say things in December
You'll regret in June

Ware your remarks before you speak
Or you may be sorry soon
Don't be erratic, be diplomatic
To keep your heart's in tune

Cruel harsh words often spoken
Will upset your appplecart
So don't lose your head then lose your guy
'Cause you can't lose a broken heart

Look how don't lose your head, then lose your gal
You can't lose a broken heart, baby
If you ever break up then try to make up
It's tough to make a brand new start

Take a walk and think it over
While strolling 'neath the moon
Don't say things in December
Baby, you'll regret in June

Ware your remarks before you speak
Or you may be sorry soon, baby
Don't be erratic, be diplomatic
To keep your heart's in tune, baby

Cruel harsh words often spoken
Will upset your appplecart, baby
So don't lose your head then lose your girl
'Cause, you can't lose a broken heart
Losen

No you can't, can't lose a broken heart
