I took my baby out and bought her a ring
Man, we planned a wedding come spring
Staring right into the eyes of my dreams
Hand in hand, down on one knee

Down by the riverside
Down by the riverside
Told me she would be my bride
Down by the riverside

She said, "Yes" as I held her tight
We made love in the broad daylight
Now I know why the old folks say
'Get too close and you'll get swept away'

Down by the riverside
Down by the riverside
Don't take much with the water's too high
Down by the riverside

Spring came and turned by baby's head around
Rains fell and now I feel like I might drown
Under the weight of this fools crown

There's a tree down by the riverside
Once it held it's head up high
We carved our vows deep in it's side
Now faithless love makes that willow cry

Down by the riverside
Down by the riverside
Her love turned out to be a lie
Down by the riverside

Down by the riverside
Her love turned out to be a lie

Down by the riverside
