I'm no poet and I know it, I don't use five dollar words
This might not sound like much compared
To all the pretty things you've heard
But here's how I'd explain it since you brought it up
It won't sound like anybody else's version of love

It's like just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
We can drive before it melts kinda feelin'
(That's how your love makes me feel inside)
There's a cow in the road and you swerve to the left
Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
And you laugh until you cry
That's how your love makes me feel inside

It might not be more suitable for greeting cards and such
But it's a true and honest feeling and if you feel it half as much
We could go through life together without a worry or a care
Knowing deep down in our hearts that we've got something special here

It's like just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
We can drive before it melts kinda feelin'
(That's how your love makes me feel inside)
There's a cow in the road and you swerve to the left
Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
And you laugh until you cry
That's how your love makes me feel inside
That's how your love makes me feel

I have always heard
And you can't put love into words

It's like just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
We can drive before it melts kinda feelin'
(That's how your love makes me feel inside)
There's a cow in the road and you swerve to the left

Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
And you laugh until you cry
That's how your love makes me feel inside

Just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
(That's how your love makes me feel inside)
Cow in the road, swerve to the left
Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
(That's how your love makes me feel inside)

(That's how I feel)
Just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
(That's how your love makes me feel)

Just before dark, jump in the car
Buy an ice cream and see how far
(That's how I feel)
Fate skips a beat and it scares you to death
