Your weariness is my weariness
Your happiness surely my happiness as well
Together, sharing our destiny
Except when you are mesmerized by someone else

This time around, I am almost reaching my limit
Trying to show you, that this love I have is real Faithful, always here everyday
Can't help letting you just on your own
Even though many times you don't even pay attention

Because you do not see
That sometimes an angel has no wings
Not radiant, nor wonderful
But this love, something you can always bet on Even the angel knows
Who's gonna be the winner
(I'm gonna be the winner)

Your loneliness
Shall not fade away by a dreamlover
But a chance for me who's imperfect nonetheless
But ready to be appraised
I am confident, this love of mine is true

You always asked me to be there
And you teased me if only my face were replaced
You wanted me to stay for you can't stand the loneliness
