There was a time I really thought it did some good To get down on my knees to you and I would But baby now that's all changed today's a brand new day
And you ain't worth the price I pay to stay

Just because you're the best looking woman that I've ever seen
Ain't reason enough to have to treat you like a king There's a harder lesson you needed to learn and it might as well be today
Baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay

I'm tired of tryin' to turn the other cheek to you And never knowin' which way to turn cause you've made up
A brand new set of rules Somewhere I picked up a little more pride than I had yesterday
Baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay [dobro]
I'm tired of tryin' to turn...
Ah baby you ain't worth the price I pay to stay
