See me loving you
A fool without a lover
How can that possibly be
Maybe you can show me why

I shiver when you're closer
I remember your touch without it
Let me drown in your ecstasy
It's got to be do or die

Don't tell me love is just one night
I know it's not true
There should be someone there
To catch you when the rain falls

And you can turn away my Heaven
And maybe I was wrong
I depended on the inner voice of Experience, or just imagination

Whatever you believe in, you can lose
And one way or the other
We can find another world we can run away to

I'm living for the experience, is only what you make it
You live forever but you never know that
Somebody loves you and when the sky is open
Fly away lovers can share, I'll be there

And you can make the earth move
You can take me with no struggle
Lead me through your mystical dreams
Show me what you are

And we can make the wind blow
You're the power and I'm in it
You can be the fire I start
I want your heart

And let there be a story when the stories are told
I need to hear you say you love me when the night falls
We may never go to Heaven but one thing that is sure

You cannot ignore, I'll make it more than

Experience is not an imagination
You get what you believe in if you choose
Somebody loves you, I couldn't get no higher
Fly away lovers can share and we'll be there

Experience is not an imagination
You get what you believe in if you choose
And one way or the other, we can find another world
We can run away to and I love you

Experience is only what you make it
You can come together when you let yourself go
And somebody loves you, I couldn't get no higher
Fly away lovers can share and we'll be there

Experience is not an imagination
You can get what you believe in if you choose
And one way or the other, we can find another world
We can run away to, I, I love you

Experience is only what you make it
