Deep in the night
When you think the world is fast asleep
You come to me, take me where I wanna go
Making promises I know you'll keep

You're the first love in my life
And the moment we touch
I can tell you how weak I've grown

You make me feel like, I never loved a man before
Never held him in my arms, never told him I loved him
I remember all the lovers coming through my door
But you make me feel like I never loved a man before

It's hard to say it
Words don't come so easily to me
But it's here in my heart
And it's making me lose control

What else can I tell you
Who'd refuse a night that takes you away
And touches your very soul

You make me feel like, I never loved a man before
Never held him in my arms, never told him I loved him
I remember all the lovers coming through my door
But you make me feel like I never loved a man before

I went along looking at love differently
Ohh, but now it's so strong
Look what you've done to me

You make me feel like, I never loved a man before
Never held him in my arms, never told him I loved him
I remember all the lovers coming through my door
But you make me feel like I never loved a man before

You make me feel like, I never loved a man before
Never held him in my arms, never told him I loved him
I remember all the lovers coming through my door
You make me feel like I never loved a man before
