I was lost it was getting late,
Trying to find my way back to the interstate
Took a wrong turn out of Cincinnati
Wound up somewhere in the middle of nowhere,
Western Kentucky
Sure felt like I'd been there before
Needing someone to tell where I am
Or where to go
Kinda like the story of my life
Always somebody's daughter, or somebody's wife

Chorus:

Now I'm lost and found
The strength to let love end and the will to live again
Lost and found
A part of me just died and I was born again tonight
The road only knows where I'm bound
I am lost and found

I prayed to heaven show me a sign
I've seen a hundred on this highway
But I might as well be blind
I begged that man not to walk out on me
Now I've never been so lonely,
But I've never been so free
Then I finally realized, I never really knew the woman
Who'd been living my life
That's when I really said goodbye
And let the arms of this open road
Wrap around me tight

Chorus:

Now I'm lost and found
The strength to let love end and the will to live again
Lost and found
A part of me just died and I was born again tonight
The road only knows where I'm bound
I am lost and found
