Flowers in the Snow

by Bill Staines

Who will walk her tonight out in the heather?

Who will laugh away the teardrop in her eye?

She wants someone to love her forever,

But every new love only brings another lie.

Cho. 1:

Empty winds, you hear her say

Fickle winds, they shift away

And I don't need him in my life for I can fly .

But who will walk her tonight out in the heather?

And who will laugh away the teardrop in her eye?

Who will smile with him when photographs are yellow,

And share his memories when they're flowers in the snow?

Who will know his mind when all the words are hollow,

And help him face the things he never seems to know?

Cho. 2:

It's the road, you hear him say,

It's the road and it's my way

And I don't need her in my life, now let me go

But who will smile with him when photographs are yellow

And share his memories when they're flowers in the snow?

Repeat Ref. 1 and Ref. 2
