Slide your fingers over the ground
Paint imaginary pictures
You cry tearless
You wish you could stop
The night comin' over you

You're tired of complaining
Questions in mind
Would you hide the always
Dark side of your moon

If I'd tell you, you are
Someone special
You are someone's special

Refrain 1:
Stop the rain
Breath again
You're like one million people
All the same
But names are changing

Let your heart beat again
I give you one million reasons to take
The frozen treas off you angel face

Slide with your memories over the time
When you were untouchable
Try to beat it
Try to stop the night comin' over you

If I'd tell you, you are
Someone special
You are someone's special

Refrain 2:
Stop the rain
Breath again
You're like one million people
All the same
But names are changing

Let your heart beat again
I give you one million reasons
To stay awake

Get up and chase your hopes running
You can reach them
The blue horizon is yours
