youre breaking up try relocation are you listening am i loud and clear i didnt get your name and im sorry dear your signals fading
i think you try to hard to get attention im gonna hang up now before i tell you how i really feel about you

you never looked me in the eye i dont remember ever saying goodbye

you cant relate at all
you dont belong you dont belong you cause baby its not your fault
you dont belong you dont belong you you missed a step and fell flat on your back its the moves that you havent got youre still ahead you better stop and get off your knees the news will hit the names will stick the camera caught it all on film for all to see you look good in black and white humiliation serves you right tell me how it feels get out of here

get out of here
yeah
