

Die Young "Believe In Nothing"

Dismiss all that's wrong or right only the blind see in black and white the cycles of cruelty have been passed down for centuries
as our relentless pursuit of truth absolute has kept us on our knees...

awaiting mercy from the gods or the tyranny of their laws our ideas must evolve before we see their powers dissolve we must adapt to the harshness of our changing world there is no truth absolute, save for "change: subject to all"

reality seen differently through each and every eye there's no need to die for the fundamentals we've been taught because no truth divine would shackle the mind with fear and contempt

disregard all you think you know your beliefs are not your own
clean the slate and begin again believe in no god believe in no law
