We are the locusts, we are the plague infecting this world with our disease we took a pure world, assumed it was our place and then drowned it in concrete we've turned this world into a living hell yet still we believe heaven awaits us somewhere fucking else.....

if we ever arrive at this "heaven" we're waiting for let us suffer the pain of being denied at the door these days are made long by the clocks we've made this world lays dead under roads we've paved we are the locusts
we are the plague

as we go ravaging field by field, we'll never get our fill we'll never quench our appetite because we never stop to use our minds use your fucking mind...

(fuck you, fuck me, fuck humanity)
