

Die Young "The Renaissance"

Visit "The Renaissance" on MotoLyrics.com

I will smile in content withstanding flames of your hell for I will truly live each and every day on earth for ten thousand years religion has led us blind we must break the chains of our fear, the time has come to redeem our lives there will be no fire, there will be no guiding light and no judgement day bury me in defiance I vow to be free in death if never free in life these days are like a straw to the flame and if there's life to live it won't be lived on our knees so for your sake, get up and do as you please get up off your knees no more gods, no more masters no life is lived in the hereafter, so I'll live today consider this the renaissance of life with freedom claimed as thrones of gods are set aflame

Visit Die Young page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.