What is that sound?
Where is it coming from?
All around
What are you running from?

Something you don't understand
Something you cannot command

That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell

What's going down
Who's moved this room from 'round me?
Where is it gone?
I fear this night will drown me

So I lie awake all night
'Cos I can't sleep with something I can't fight

And she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell

The laws of gravity are very, very strict
And you're just bending them for your own benefit

The laws of gravity are very, very strict
And you're just bending them for your own benefit

One minute she says
And she's gone to get the cat in
The next thing I know
She's mumbling in Latin

She cut the stars out of the sky
And baked them in a pie

That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know

That she's got a new spell

She stole the scene and the scenery
The script and the machinery

That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell
