She found a cowboy
and I hear they settled down somewhere out west well I guess it's for the best.
Here in Del Rio
nothing seems to change except the weather, and I cant forget her.

She goes runnin through my mind
like that Rio Grand river winds through the desert.
And I cant forget her,
no I cant forget her

There's a senorita who waits just over the border line for me tonight and I could hold her and this tequila could help me love her but there's still another.

She goes runnin through my mind
like that Rio Grand river winds
through the desert.

And I cant forget her,
no I cant forget her

These endless starry nights remind me of her eyes, and this warm prairie breeze is like her arms wrapped around me.

She goes runnin through my mind like that Rio Grand river runs through the desert.
And i cant forget her,
no i cant forget her

She found a cowboy
well I guess its for the best.
But I cant forget her,

no I cant forget her.
