Its three years gone / still i rattle on / This crazy world is moving fast / Here I am / guitar in hand / I wonder how long this will last / I wish you could see / what this means to me / It means more than I could ever say / So I close my eyes and I think real hard / Back to the days spent on the school yard / and how many times I wished that this were true / that this were true / it makes me smile / To the famous three / who never believed / I'm singing this song to you / look at me now / I'm so proud to be / right here, right now / a part of this
