"Old Man's Bluff"

It's an old man's bluff
Nothing in the world today
Nothing in the world today but lost and lonely pleasure
What can you say?
What can you say to that?
What can you do but bang your gong!

Trick of the light
Trick of the light of day
Trick of the light of day and darkness
What can you say?
What can you do to that?
What can you do but see your star

It's an old man's bluff
Nothing in the world today
Nothing in the world today
It ain't fair, young man's dream
A young man's dream of life
A young man's dream of life and love

I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is moving faster
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is gonna shatter
How do you feel?
How do you feel now?
How do you feel 'bout that, wise master?

Laughing at the heads
Laughing at the heads that break and the idle millions
Just last night, last night I was praying
I was praying for the lonely
What can you say?
What can you say to that?
What can you say but answer me
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is moving faster
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is gonna shatter

Under my feet, under my feet I feel
Under my feet I feel the clay crumbling
What can you do, What can you do 'bout that?
What can you do but hey hey hey hey
It's the old man's bluff
Nothing in the world today
Nothing in the world today, but lost and lonely -
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is moving faster
I feel the Earth is moving
I feel the Earth is gonna shatter
