know you're scared 'cos you've ran to me
But you know you must go back again
There ain't no doubt 'far as I can see
That you're gonna work it out again

Don't be scared of the night my lonely one
It's a drag but it's alright my only one
Look it right in the eyes my lonely one
They were putting you on, just getting you going

Some changes work, some ain't got a chance

Still you know you got to try them all
There's no use in sitting home at night
You know you've got to do it all

Don't be scared of the night my lonely one
It's a drag but it's alright my only one
Look it right in the eyes my lonely one
They were putting you on, just getting you going
Making a new plan for you, but you didn't notice
