I'm out here stranded on this Oklahoma Road Nothing but a broken truck, heat and dust and a million high line poles
If only I could tap the line I'd be just fine
If I could talk to her right now

Cause there's a voice inside of me That's saying something's wrong Cause I've tried a hundred times and a hundred dimes to reach her on the phone and like the sun my hearts sinkin cause I'm thinkin it don't matter anyhow

And I got a feelin' she ain't feelin' what I'm feelin'
anymore
I got a sneakin suspicion love is walkin out the door
Now I'm dealin with a heartache like I've never felt before
I got a feelin' she ain't feelin' what I'm feelin anymore

I like this ramblin life but what a price to pay To think I'd let a dollar sign and a diesel whine drive her love away
I've got a real strong premonition
She ain't missin me as much as I miss her

And I got a feelin' she ain't feelin' what I'm feelin'
anymore
I got a sneakin suspicion love is walkin out the door
Now I'm dealin with a heartache like I've never felt
And I got a feelin' she ain't feelin' what I'm feelin
anymore

I got a feelin' she ain't feelin' what I'm feelin' anymore
